ROY SMEARS

EXT DAY WOODS

THAT'S NATURE

Roy wears a camouflaged coat with tan very tight and short combat shorts.

He passes in front of the camera smelling a flower, He smiles awkwardly towards the camera as he steps out of shot.

Roy bends down and speaks directly into the camera.

ROY

I'm forever been told of stories of people been lost in woods just like these, lacking the survival skills to stay alive long enough for help to find them. In this series I will be showing you some basic survival tips and techniques to aid you, so that if you ever become lost and fighting for survival out here you will stand a better chance.

Roy stands up and steps out of shot.

Roy bends beside a tree.

ROY (CONT'D)

I was recently told tragic story of two hikers who went missing in these very woods. They were lost for five days before their water ran out, they became disorientated by the many identical trees and shrubbery making it near impossible to mark a point of reference. Eventually hunger set in, I can only imagine the torment and frustration they went through knowing that with out food and water they would soon be dead.

Roy looks up at the camera, stands and steps out of shot.

Roy bends down beside another tree, he rummages through his back pack whilst speaking to the camera.

ROY (CONT'D)

It's stories like these that really inspired me to train myself in extreme outdoor survival, So that I can teach others that been in the great outdoors doesn't have to end in tragedy. The two hikers lacked something we all need when battling with the unforgiving wilderness, It's often like the saying 'knowledge is power'.

Roy delves into his back pack and pulls out a large knife.

ROY (CONT'D)

For example this tree alone can provide all the essential liquids and nourishment the body requires.

Roy stabs the knife into the base of the tree, he turns the knife in a corkscrew fashion. He removes his hand as the tree begins seeping sap.

ROY (CONT'D)

I will leave this tree for an hour or so, hopefully when I return the tree will have provided me with what I need to survive.

Roy stands and steps out of shot.

Time passes and Roy returns to the tree, he looks down.

ROY (CONT'D)

Perfect!

We see the base of the tree and where the knife once was, has been replaced with McDonald Chicken nuggets and fries with a large drink and straw.

ROY (CONT'D)

Everything the body needs for survival, with this little bit of know how and an understand of natures little treats, then the Hikers and so many people before them could have...

Roy stops talking and looks around the tree as if trying to find something, he pauses and looks disappointingly at the tree.

ROY (CONT'D)

That's very disappointing, It's missing the Barbecue dip. But less us not forget we are in the great outdoors and nature can be very, very unforgiving.

Roy bites into a nugget and walks out of shot.
