I just wanted to see if you'd make the right choice that's all.

AARON

Well did I make the right choice.

MELISSA

I don't know, I mean I'm a really bad girl on Christmas Eve.

Amber comes walking in the door.

CHRISTINE

Hey sis, do you know how to cook a ham?

AMBER

Me know how to cook, do I look like I took cooking class?

CHRISTINE

Good point, well now what, none of us know how to cook the ham.

JACK

Well we better find out how to real quick because I have something I need to tell everyone.

SARAH

We don't want to hear this do we?

JACK

Well it's better that you hear it now than later.

SARAH

This is going to be bad.

JACK

See I felt bad for Professor Daniels, so I kind of invited Professor Daniels to dinner.

SARAH

Which one did you invite?

JACK

See that's a real funny thing.

SARAH

Which one did you invite Jack?

JACK

Don't kill me, both.

SARAH

We're dead, we are so dead.

CHRISTINE

How can we feed nine people when we don't even know how to cook a ham?

VERONICA

Well you know what, we're sure going to learn how to real quick because this is Christmas and it's the time of being with one another, so let me into that kitchen.

CHRISTINE

That's the spirit honey.

VERONICA

I just didn't know what else to say to try to pump everyone up.

SARAH

Any ideas of what we can all do?

VERONICA

Yes, why don't Amber and I work on the ham, Sarah, why don't you and Christine work on the potatoes and you guys can finish cleaning up if that isn't too hard.

JACK

Not too hard at all.

RYAN

Hey let's get started.

STEPHANIE

Nice to meet you Melissa.

AARON

Melissa, this is my annoying sister, younger sister, Stephanie.

MELISSA

Nice to meet you Stephanie. And may I say you're a hottie too.

STEPHANIE

Thanks, she's a keeper.

AARON

Thanks any ways, where's mom?

STEPHANIE

Oh she's out running errands and won't be back until about five,
she wants you and I to finish cooking dinner.

AARON

You and I cook, we can't cook.

STEPHANIE

Hey I took cooking classes last semester.

AARON

Okay then you can cook, and I'll watch.

Aaron, don't treat your sister like that, I think it would be fun to cook.

STEPHANIE

Why are you with him?

ACT FOUR

FADE IN:

INT. APARTMENT - KITCHEN - LATER

Veronica and Amber are reading the ham.

VERONICA

I don't get these hams, they don't even say how to put them in the microwave, it says conventional oven, we don't have one of those, we have a regular oven but not one of those.

AMBER

I get it, the ham is made in some other country.

VERONICA

Why would they sell it in the United States if it was from another country.

AMBER

Well because everything has microwave instructions on it.

VERONICA

Well we're just going to make it in the oven and adapt to what we think it should be cooked for.

AMBER

Okay how long should we cook it for?

VERONICA

Well it says here three hours, but that's probably a much more powerful oven and it says four fifty so let's go with five hundred for five hours.

AMBER

Okay sounds good.

INT. APARTMENT - LIVING ROOM - CONTINUOUS

Jack, Dan and Ryan sitting on couch watching football.

CONTINUED:

JACK

See the women are cooking and we are free to watch the game.

DAN

This is suppose to be a good game also.

RYAN

I didn't want to miss this game, oh come on run you jackass, see that, the defense is all over that guy, I could get in there and run faster and score than he can.

DAN

It's just a game, he's doing what he can, remember he earns millions for just showing up.

RYAN

I know what's wrong with that, I show up to class all the time and don't get a dime.

JACK

Maybe you should call the college on that one, tell them you want paid for going to class.

DAN

Yeah, you might get it within a million years.

RYAN

Funny guys, make fun of the thinker.

INT. AARON'S MOM'S HOUSE - CONTINUOUS

Aaron, Melissa and Stephanie sitting at the kitchen table watching TV.

AARON

I never understood why they played football on Christmas.

MELISSA

It's all about money, they get paid good money to play on a day like this.

CONTINUED:

STEPHANIE

We weren't allowed to watch football on holidays growing up.

MELISSA

Well how old are you any ways.

STEPHANIE

I'm a senior in high school, I'm sixteen, I skipped the third grade.

MELISSA

Really smart I'm guessing?

STEPHANIE

No they messed up the paperwork.

AARON

See why I'm happy I live in my own apartment with my friends.

STEPHANIE

Well I'll be going to school with you again next year.

AARON

Not if I can help it, one little call and you aren't getting in.

MELISSA

Why don't you want your little sister going to school with you.

AARON

We did for three years, it was hell, they shouldn't put siblings in the same school.

MELISSA

Hey my sister and I loved being in the same school, she wants to come out here and go with us when she graduates in two years.

AARON

I thought you were an only child.

MELISSA

I am an only child, I'm talking about my step sister in my step dads side. We didn't have a choice but to get along.

(MORE)

CONTINUED: (2)

MELISSA (cont'd)

We have the same first name at least different last names though.

AARON

That's always the good thing.

MELISSA

Where is your mom?

AARON

I don't know.

INT. APARTMENT - LIVING ROOM - CONTINUOUS

Jack and Ryan sitting on couch watching TV when both Professor Daniels come in through the front door.

JACK

Hey were so glad you could make it.

PROFESSOR J. DANIELS

Well we didn't think we would at first, there's so much snow on the ground.

PROFESSOR S. DANIELS

So how is the break treating you kids.

JACK

Not much to do, you overwhelmed us with homework to do over the break.

PROFESSOR J. DANIELS

You gave them homework over the break.

PROFESSOR S. DANIELS

Well yes, I figured that it would give them something to do and we can keep schooling and they could keep learning even when they don't have too.

PROFESSOR J. DANIELS

Well my Christmas present to you is no homework, I don't give my students homework over a three week break.

CONTINUED:

RYAN

See this is why I don't take Math this year, I was warned about all of this before the school year.

PROFESSOR J. DANIELS

How's dinner coming?

RYAN

Do I smell something burning?

Ryan and Jack run into the kitchen where smoke is coming out of the oven and Veronica opens the oven to see a black ham.

VERONICA

Well who likes dark meat?

RYAN

How long did you cook the ham for?

VERONICA

Well the instructions said that a conventional oven is two hours, I figured this kind of oven would be about five.

JACK

Veronica if I may be blunt, that is a conventional oven.

VERONICA

I beg your pardon.

JACK

Yeah, that's a conventional oven, it's a regular oven.

RYAN

Now what?

VERONICA

Well Christine, Amber and Sarah went to the store to get dessert.

RYAN

We have guests out there who want dinner.

VERONICA

We could call Amber and tell them to pick up dinner.

CONTINUED: (2)

RYAN

Now what, any ideas Jack?

JACK

None, we are finished.

Professor J. Daniels walks into the kitchen.

PROFESSOR J. DANIELS

Wow, what happened in here.

JACK

Veronica burned, well we'll say torched the ham.

PROFESSOR J. DANIELS

I can see, well it's good we brought another ham with us.

RYAN

You guys brought a spare ham with you?

PROFESSOR J. DANIELS

You didn't actually think we thought you could cook did you?

JACK

Yes.

PROFESSOR J. DANIELS

We figured you invited us because you wanted us to cook.

JACK

No, we invited you so that you can spend Christmas with people who care about you, what Christmas is about.

PROFESSOR J. DANIELS

Well let's get that ham out of there and get this one put in there.

VERONICA

How do you suppose we get this ham out of there?

PROFESSOR J. DANIELS

That's a good question, maybe we should just order out.

CONTINUED: (3)

VERONICA

That might be a good idea.

JACK

Everybody like Chinese?

RYAN

Yeah Chinese.

INT. APARTMENT - LIVING ROOM - CONTINUOUS

A table is set up in the middle with nine chairs around it a red cloth on it and Chinese food all around on it with Amber, Jack, Christine, Sarah, Veronica, Ryan, Dan and both Professor Daniels sitting at the table.

SARAH

So as we sit here in front of our lovely Chinese Christmas dinner, who wants to say grace?

CHRISTINE

How did this happen any ways?

JACK

Veronica burned the ham.

VERONICA

Thanks guys, just point me right out.

AMBER

I'll say grace.

VERONICA

That sounds good.

AMBER

Dear Lord, we thank you today, on this Christmas day for bringing us all together here with this lovely Chinese food in front of us, amen.

RYAN

Let's dig in. Someone pass me the spare ribs.

They all start passing food around, when Aaron, Melissa and Stephanie walk in.

SARAH

What are you guys doing here.

CONTINUED:

AARON

Have room for a few more people?

JACK

What happened at your mom's?

STEPHANIE

Mom got stuck at work and we burned the ham.

RYAN

So did we. Who are you.

AARON

This is my sister Stephanie.

CHRISTINE

I'll go get more chairs.

AARON

Don't worry about, we can sit on the couch, just start passing the grub, we're starving.

MELISSA

Merry Christmas guys.

AMBER

Merry Christmas Melissa, here have some Chinese food.

Amber passes a plate to Melissa. Aaron sits down on the couch.

AARON

Merry Christmas from the cast of Independent Living and Happy Holidays.
