A Sonata in Z
by Aaron Mitton
FADE IN:

INT. CABIN – DAY

The room is dark. Suddenly, QUINN, a young woman in her early 20’s, athletic and exuding confidence, is breaking down the door with a small axe. As pieces of the door break apart, she looks through the hole wearing tinted goggles and a balaclava. She puts her hand through, unlocks the door, and steps through.

Her clothes are visibly worn and dirty. She is holding a pistol in one hand, a small axe in the other, and a well-worn leather satchel over one shoulder. She slowly enters and scans the room.

The cabin has been abandoned for years and the room is completely disheveled.

As she continues through the main room, she notices a nearly skeletal corpse in the room and next to it, a rifle and a stuffed animal. The back of its skull has been blown to pieces. She steps over the body and continues to look around.

INT. CABIN BEDROOM – DAY

She enters what appears to be an empty bedroom. Her gun is still drawn. It is empty. She looks around the room before turning around and leaving.

INT. CABIN – DAY

She re-enters the main room, and holsters her gun and axe. She removes her balaclava and goggles, revealing her face. She walks over to the small kitchen area and starts to open cabinets and drawers, throwing items of no use onto the floor and taking what few canned goods there are and putting them in her satchel. She finds a cell phone and tosses it onto the counter. She starts to go through the mini fridge and finds only old, moldy food. However, in the back of the fridge, she finds an unopened can of soda, and smiles.

QUINN

Yes!
She leans up against the kitchen counter, opens the soda, and takes a drink. She grabs the cell phone from the counter and pushes the power button, but it is obviously dead, so she tosses it onto back onto the counter. She starts to walk away when she pauses.

She pulls out a small solar charger from her satchel, tries a couple of different plugs, plugs in the phone, and sets it on the window sill. The charging light turns on. All of a sudden, she hears someone calling her.

NOAH
(off, yelling)
Quinn!

QUINN
(yelling)
In here!

NOAH comes through the damaged front door. He is approximately the same age as Quinn, and is dressed similarly. He is skinny, not physically intimidating, but has a goodness to him. As he enters, Quinn turns towards him and hides the soda behind her back.

NOAH
Hey, thanks for waiting up for me. And by waiting up, I mean totally ditching me.

QUINN
Sorry. You know, if you could move like your life depended on it sometimes, because it does, then maybe I wouldn’t ditch you. And by sorry, I mean not sorry.

NOAH
Whatever Quinn, you know hardly anyone can keep up with you.

QUINN
Kinda sounds like your guys’s problem.

NOAH
That’s not how it works Quinn. Don’t you listen to anything that Monty tells…?

QUINN
(interrupting)
Yeah yeah, I’ve heard him dawdle his way through speeches about teamwork and trust and blah blah blah.

NOAH
It’s what’s kept us alive and going, Quinn.

QUINN
Whatever Noah, quit being such a girl.

Noah starts walking around the room.

NOAH
So, d’you find anything?

QUINN
Yeah, a few cans.

NOAH
Good, anything else?

QUINN
Nah, the other room is just garbage.

Noah notices the corpse.

NOAH
Geez Louise, what happened to that guy?

QUINN
(points at gun)
Looks like he couldn’t hack it.

NOAH
Sucks to be him.

(pause)

Well, you wanna go over to the next cabin, see what we can find?

Quinn glances at the charging phone.

QUINN
No, just go ahead, I’ll catch up. I just gonna look around here a bit more, make sure I didn’t miss anything.

NOAH
We were told to stay together.

QUINN
You’ll be fine Noah. You don’t need me to hold your hand all the time.

NOAH
That’s not what I meant.

QUINN
Sure it’s not.

NOAH
You know what Quinn...

(pauses)

Nevermind, just... be careful

Noah turns and leaves.
Quinn watches him leave. Once he’s gone, she grabs her soda and takes a drink, with a smile on her face.

She walks over to the phone, picks it up, and it says that it’s about 15% charged. She unplugs it, puts the charger back in her satchel, and sits down on the couch.

She opens the phone and starts flipping through the screens. She randomly scrolls through the pictures, and there are pictures of a man in his thirties and his wife and young daughter, probably about 4 years old. She flips through some more pictures when she comes across a video. She clicks play and watches it.

It is a video of the man and his daughter making funny faces. She then goes through a few videos, all involving the man, the wife, and his daughter. Quinn glances over at the body, then looks back at the phone.

QUINN
Cute family. You did alright for yourself.

She watches a few more videos before she tosses the phone onto the couch. As she stands up and starts to go, she hears the phone.

MAN
Quinn...

Quinn is stopped dead in her tracks, her eyes as big as dinner plates.

MAN
Quinn, I’m sorry.

Quinn rushes over to the couch and grabs the phone. She quickly rewinds the video to the beginning.

The video is of the man, in the very cabin that she is in, sometime at night. He is recording himself.

MAN
Quinn... Quinn, I’m sorry. I’m sorry to do this to...
Just then, the phone flashes “low battery” and dies. Quinn frantically tries to get her charger back out.

QUINN
Shit! No, no, no, no, no, no…

She plugs the phone back into the charger and tries to turn it on, only to get the message that the phone needs to charge more before turning on.

She slams the phone on the window sill and starts pacing and mumbling to herself.

QUINN
What the hell was that?

As she’s pacing, she is constantly checking the phone. Then she glances at the dead body. She goes over and carefully starts going through his pockets. She finds a picture of him, his wife, and his child, which she tosses aside. She finds his wallet and she pulls out his ID, which reads “Robert Davies”. She rushes back over to the phone and tries to turn it on. To her delight, it turns back on. She hurriedly goes back to the video.

MAN
Quinn… Quinn, I’m sorry. I’m so sorry to do this to you. Please know that I don’t want it to be this way, but I have to do what’s best for you.

The man in the video, ROBERT, then picks up the phone and carries it over to the bedroom. We see a YOUNG GIRL in one bed, and another family: BRIAN, CLAIRE, and two young BOYS in the other, all sleeping.

ROBERT
You’re so, so beautiful. I could watch you sleep all night. And I’m sorry about the cut on your arm. One of those monsters got their hands on you, but I was able to get him off you.

Robert lifts up the bandage. There is a large cut on her arm, although cleaned up.

ROBERT
I gave you some antibiotics and put you down for the night.

Quinn pauses the video and looks at the cut on the girl’s arm and rushes over to a mirror. She wipes the dirt off and pulls up her sleeve to reveal a large scar on her arm.
She is holding the phone and comparing the two scars. They are identical.

She looks down at the phone and slowly presses play.

The video is showing Robert going back into the main room and sitting back down.

ROBERT
By the time we realized what was happening, it was too late. We knew we had to get to the air force base. Our neighbors, Brian and Claire and their boys, came with us, since we had an SUV, but we ran out of gas. We saw this little cabin a ways off the road and figured that’d be the safest spot to spend the night. I told your mother...(cont.)

Robert pauses, fists clenched, then wipes the tears from his face.

(cont.) I told her I would carry you, and that we all needed to stay close.

EXT. WOODS - NIGHT
Robert is holding YOUNG QUINN. They are are in a group with Quinns mother JESS, Brian, Claire, and the two boys and they are hurriedly going through the field toward the cabin. Suddenly, several INFECTED attack the group. The group fights them off. One of the infected grab young Quinn as Robert knocks it away leaving a large scratch on her arm. They manage to kill most of them, but as they are about to get away, an infected grabs Jess. Robert tries to help, but gets bit and she is killed. Robert screams.

INT. CABIN - DAY

Quinn is watching the video on the phone

    ROBERT
    Those things snuck right up on us, and your mother...

Robert breaks down crying.

As Robert is crying, he reaches toward the phone as the video ends.

With her hands trembling, Quinn sets the phone down. She scrambles and finds the picture she tossed earlier of the three of them and studies it.

She sets the picture on the coffee table, and presses play on the next video.

Robert is again sitting on the couch recording himself, paler than when he started, not crying, but still wiping the tears away.

    ROBERT
    Sorry about that sweetie. Your mother died fighting those things off. I tried to help and managed to get myself bit in the process.

Robert shows his fresh bite wound to the camera.

Quinn is taken aback.
ROBERT
It seems like we ran forever, but we made it to the cabin. We found some gas in the shed out back and Brian and Claire agreed to take you with them. Their boy, Noah, is about your age.

I’m sorry I can’t go with you. Once you get bit, you have about a day before you become a mindless killer like them. I have no idea what I would’ve done if they weren’t here to take you.

Quinn pauses the video. She stands up and takes a deep breath and rubs her teary eyes.

She then sits back down and presses play on the video.

ROBERT
I don’t have time to tell you everything, and I’m sorry I can’t be there to help you as you grow up. Just know that you had a father and mother who loved you very much, (cont)

INT. CABIN – DAWN

Robert is sitting on the couch recording the video on his phone.

(cont) and that you were the most precious thing in the world to us. We will always be with you and watch over you. Love you, forever and always, your Mommy and Daddy.
Robert reaches and stops recording on the video. He sits back. The other family walks out of the bedroom, with Brian carrying young Quinn. She is sound asleep, holding her stuffed animal.

ROBERT
I can never thank you enough for what you’re doing.

BRIAN
Do you wanna wake her up and say goodbye?

ROBERT
I can’t… Just… Just let her sleep.

Brian nods and hands Robert a hunting rifle.

BRIAN
I found it in the bedroom. I could only find one bullet for it though. I’m sorry.

Robert nods and takes the rifle.

The family and Robert move toward the door. Robert starts to hand him his phone.

ROBERT
Just do me a favor, and show her th…

Robert is interrupted mid-sentence by a SCREAM. As he was talking, Claire opened the door to an infected standing in the doorway and it falls upon her. The Claire and the boys scream. The scream wakes up young Quinn, who drops her stuffed animal on the floor.

YOUNG QUINN
(groggily)
Daddy?
Robert springs into action, and he drops the phone on the floor as he pulls the infected from Claire before she is bit.

ROBERT

GO! RUN!

The family starts to run. The infected falls on top of Robert and takes a bite out of his shoulder as he screams in pain.

Young Quinn sees her dad on the floor and starts screaming and crying for him.

YOUNG QUINN

DADDY!

Robert manages to get on top of the infected, grab the rifle, and shoot it. He hobbles to the door, but the family is already quite a distance away, running, and he watches as his daughter is taken away from him forever.

ROBERT

Goodbye Quinn.

Robert picks up the phone and sits back down on the couch. He is much paler. He sets the phone on the table and starts recording.

ROBERT

I don’t know why I’m recording this, since you’ll probably never see it. I guess, that, I’m just hoping that fate will bring you back here someday. The battery is almost dead, so here it goes.

Quinn Davies, please don’t ever forget how special you are.

Things aren’t always going to go your way in this world, and you have to accept that that’s ok. What’s not ok, is to quit. Don’t lower your standards, don’t let boys be mean to you, and don’t ever quit fighting for what’s important. And if the world pushes you, then by God, you push back harder.

I know it’s gonna be hard, but try your best to find the beauty in the world. Don’t forget to sing and dance and laugh. Walk through a stream barefoot. Make up bad jokes. Be the love and the light that you want to see in the world. But most of all, be happy. There’s not a lot you can do about your circumstances sometimes, but you can always control how you react to them. (cont.)

INT. CABIN – DAY

Quinn is sitting on the couch watching the video in tears

(cont.) You are my greatest love and the only worthwhile thing I have ever done. My life my joys, begin with you. Quinn, I love you so m…

Just then, the video ends. Quinn’s entire body is trembling, tears streaming down her face.

INT. CABIN – MORNING

Robert is sitting on the couch. He is extremely pale at this point. His phone flashes “No Battery” and shuts off. He puts his head in his hands.

INT. CABIN – DAY
Quinn is sitting on the couch, head in her arms.

INT. CABIN – MORNING

Robert, with gritted teeth, starts smashing and turning over the furniture.

INT. CABIN – DAY

Quinn starts smashing up and throwing the furniture while screaming.

INT. CABIN – MORNING

Robert calms down, puts the phone in the cabinet, and picks up Quinn’s toy. Among the mess, he notices another bullet on the floor. He grabs the rifle, loads the bullet, sits on the floor, and closes his eyes.

Off screen, we hear a BANG.

INT. CABIN – DAY

Quinn is leaning against the wall, her back to the door, looking at the corpse, quietly sobbing. Noah comes in.

    NOAH
    C’mon Quinn, what’s taking...

He notices the cabin in shambles.

    NOAH
    Holy moly, what happened?

    QUINN
    That’s um... That’s my dad.

    NOAH
    What? ... How?

Quinn hands Noah the phone and he watches the videos.

    NOAH
    Quinn, I’m so sorry. I, I never knew. My parents never said anything before they died.

QUINN
I know Noah, it’s ok.

NOAH
How about you?

QUINN
Yeah... Yeah I’ll be ok...

NOAH
So what do you want to do?

Quinn thinks for a moment.

QUINN
Grab that shovel.

EXT CABIN – DAY

There is a mound of freshly dug dirt with a crudely made cross at its head with the stuffed animal tied to it. Quinn and Noah are standing next to it and she has the picture of her parents in her back pocket. As they are staring at the grave, Quinn reaches over and grabs Noah’s hand. Neither of them look at each other.

QUINN
C’mon, let’s go.

They both walk away and we see the inscription on the cross: “Robert Davies: My life, my joys, begin with you”.

The End