As I walk through the door it reminds me of the first time I had to go to work after my parents died. I was so nervous on that day just like today. A big building of people I don't know and know how I feel again as I took my deep breath and looked up. He was standing right there Steven Maxwell, my date for tonight. As I walked down into the parking lot I had a feeling that someone was following me and I hid behind a car at the far end of the lot and Alessia was following me and then Ray and Steven came down and she drove off and I left after her. When I was driving home I saw her talking to a strange man that came out of the M.F.T entertainment industry.

Charlie: what

Steven: i don't mine it any more because i get to meet you

As the night went on we talked and laughed, drank and had lots of fun. That night he walked me to my car and kissed my hand telling me goodnight, knowing that i will see him in the morning. When I got home my heart was beating so fast and my nosy family was up.

Charlie: hi guys you're up so late

Arthur: they were helping me do some research on the girl you told me about

Charlie: so what did you get

Mary-ann: apparently at her other jobs she didn't stay long she got fired from over 6 entertainment industry so far

Charlie: come on you know about my past so tell me about yours

Steven: ok

Stevens pass

When I was younger my mom and dad were happy or that's what i thought my dad ran maxwells car industry. One day when I came back from school I found my dad dead. After a month my mother remarried and he took my fathers last name. At first it was great. He loved me and took care of me until the day my brother was born. Then they treated me like nothing when I grew up. I wanted to take over the business but they told me that my dad left the company to him. And they showed me all the documents and it was in his name. I carried them to court and they ruled that he is the right full owner so I left and never went back. But every 2 weeks on a sunday they invite me to dinner to try and get me married to some rich man's daughter from their company and after that one time I never went back.

As we sat there and he told me his story I realized there must be something up. How can a father not leave his only son nothing so I decided to do a little investigation myself.

Charlie: wow ,what a family. look instead of cooking i will order a pizza

Staven: really and i was looking forward to your cooking

Charlie: yeah well next time i really don't have nothing in my refrigerator

Steven: Wow, really empty except

Charlie: What do you want on your?

Steven: baby food?

Charlie: that's my niece

Steven: ok

hapter 4

As we ordered pizza and we sat down and ate we watched a movie and then he went home. My brother spent the night at Mary-Ann's and i realized that we are partners with Maxwell's car industry so when the morning came i did a little investigation into their business and i could not believe what i found out. But i need proof and i need the papers to back everything up but in order to do that i had to get in there house somehow.

Arthur: ok sis time to go out get ready

Charlie: what

Arthur: remember how you use to take me to the amusement pack when i was smaller as a reward for when i did well in school

Charlie: yeah

Arthur: know its my reward for doing what you say lately

Ava: baba na

Arthur: see ava agreed

Charlie: ok i will put on some clothes and get some cash

Mary-Ann: what took you guys so long

Charlie: like seriously

Michael: you think we were going to miss this

Charlie: fine lets go

As we all got in the car we drove to the amusement park and for the first time in a long time we were all together and our little family of two grew into a family of eight. As we arrived at the park we went and all the rides and ate a lot, seeing everyone together and happy made me very happy. As usual we had to carry the sleepy heads back to the car and only Mary-Ann and I were awake. We stopped at the supermarket and we got some groceries and went home.

Mary-Ann: ok what's on your mind

Charlie: what are you talking about everything is ok

Mary-Ann: i can see the wheels in you head turning so spill

So I told Mary-Ann everything Steven told me.

Michael: Maxwell's car industry we own 80% of that company

Charlie: what and when did you wake up

Michael: yeah they came to us asking for money to borrow so told them that i will talk to you

Charlie: all we need know is a way in and to get the original documents

Mary-Ann: how about author he was a spy

Charlie: that's true

As we went home I unpacked everything and started coming up with a plan. On our way to work everyone was extremely busy because next Tuesday was the day the boss is going to come.

Alessia: sir we got a call Annabell rejected another movie role

Steven: what, get her on the phone

Ray: GG says she wants a new designer

Steven: what wrong with the last designer

Ray: she says that he what she expected

Steven: fine look who we have left

Charlie: ray call this number and think the designer will be to her liking

Ray: thanks Charlie

Charlie: sir one cup of coffee and you need to sign off on the boy's tour and you need to sign these papers.

Ray: sir annabell is here

Annabell: What's going on? I did not want to star in that movie.

Steven: Then tell me what you want. Charlie get our star here something to drink

Charlie: yes sir

Alessia: sir you have a visitor he say he is you brother

Steven: one minute miss bell

Taylor: so this is where you work

Steven: what are you doing here

Taylor: mom and dad say if you can come home on Saturday instead they want to have an important talk with you

Steven: please leave i have work to do

Taylor: so you and your secretary are sleeping together

Steven: get out i will see you there Saturday

Taylor: fine remember to bring that shorty with you

As Steven's brother left the building Alessia followed him into the parking lot to have a talk with him.

Alessia: so your my bosses brother

Taylor: What is it to you?

Alessia: see here i want to get a promotion and not just any promotion i want to be the boss so tell me what you know and i will make it all worthwhile to you.

So that is what he did he told her everything and right there in the parking lot he slept with her. Back in the office Steven was trying to make Annabell take a movie role.

Steven: work with me here Annabell

Annabell: i don't want any of these roles

Charlie: here is your drink and sir this is for you

Annabell: thank you and i want something else to do

Steven: how about revenge (one off my book's)

Annabell: yes that is perfect

As the day went on everyone's work went smoothly and Ray asked me out to dinner so I accepted leaving seven in the office alone.

Alessia: hello mr.maxwell

Steven: hello miss core what are you doing here so late

Alessia: i know all you secrets and if you dont want them to get out you will do as i say

Steven: you have nothing on me and get your hands off me

Alessia: i will tell the hole office your dating Charlie

Steven: go ahead i don't care and i will admit its the truth you got nothing on me

As Steven walked out of the office she let out a loud scream and started searching his office for information but everything was locked and no one was left in the building. Me and ray went for dinner and started talking.

Ray: so who are you really

Charlie: what are you talking about

Ray: since you been at the company you know more about our clients than anyone else

Charlie: What about you? You are so good with everyone i was wondering why you didn't go for the manager position

Ray: i was going to but i didn't and our boss is great what do you think about him

Charlie: i think he is great too and cute and when he focus on something he gets this cute concentration line

Ray: And you like him

Charlie: Maybe what about you? Anyone special person you like Alessia

Ray: hell no i am married and that cute lady is my wife

Charlie: a model GG in fact

Ray: please don't tell anyone

Charlie: i wont

GG: hi honey who is this, Boss!!!!!!!

Ray: WHAT!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

So I told Ray everything and he did not say anything for around 15 minutes.

Ray: so your our boss as in the head of all heads

Charlie: yes and you cant tell anyone

GG: sorry i burst like that i didn't know

Ray: so what's your plan i want in

Charlie: i like him GG nice pick

So I told him everything and what he was going to do. So that night i went home and author and Michael were trying to set up the baby's playpen.

Charlie: so why didn't you do this

Mary-Ann: because it is funny to see and ex-spy to set up a playpen

ava: giggling

Charlie: ok i don't understand this you can seek into a building without anyone seeing you and you can also deactivate a gun within seconds and this is what bets you

Arthur: are you guys done laughing at me or you going to help me

Charlie: ok. Done

Arthur: what

Charlie: if you read the instructions it say pull her and let inflate

Michael: i went over to there house to day and i got the info we needed

Charlie: What do you have on them?

Michael: they have over four safe in the house and the most secure one is in there bed room behind a wedding picture of them

Charlie: so i need to get in and let in Arthur

Mary-Ann: how are you going to do that

Charlie: i have a plan

So that night we all had dinner and worked during the week. Ray keeps a close eye on Alessia and he said that every night she goes into the office and takes pictures of everything in there and then one night she slept with one of mailman and he was wearing one of Steven's suits. He got video proof of everything. On Friday evening Steven asked me to come with him to his parents house on Saturday and I said yes it was also the perfect time to get the documents.

Chapter 5

That night I went home and we went over the plan. Then we went to sleep and when it was morning I got ready and the guys followed me in the surveillance van to the house.

Steven: mother father hello

Rose: hello son

Harris: hello and who is your friend

Charlie: pardon my intuition my name is charlie malu pressure to make your acquaintance

Rose: wow so polite

Taylor: hello bro and i see you brought shorty

Charlie: nice to meet you again

Rose: let us go inside for a cup of tea

In the van

Mary-ann: wow why is charlie not like that with us

Michael: knowing her she can sweet talk anyone is scary

Mary-ann: so arthur are you ready

In the car he gave me a kiss, left me smiling and on cloud nine. As I opened the door I saw everyone having breakfast.

The next day everyone gathered in the biggest meeting room ever in the building. They called it the lion's cage. I guess the name came up because of me. I was young and people did not think I could run the company until they met the real me and called me the lion. As everyone entered the room and sat down talking a quiet hush came over the room as I walked in I could hear everyone's heart beating and pen writing.
